Grape Sangiovese

Vineyard altitude 300 m

Terroir Lush field on the slopes of Montalcino, with strong clay and marl elements. Good ventilation and sun exposure ensures optimal ripeness each year.

Weather A particularly cold winter was followed by a breezy and rainy spring. In the summer the temperatures were close to ideal, punctuated by occasional rains which kept the plants at an optimal stress level. The ripening proceeded at a gentle pace, and low nighttime temperatures in late summer ensured a perfect expression of polyphenols in the grapes. Harvest began in early october, under great weather conditions, with sugars, acidity and polyphenols all having ripened to perfection.
